Celebrate the Holidays with the "Christmas Ship Concert"

Renowned folk musician, Lee Murdock, has uncovered a boundless trove of musical inspiration from the Great Lakes. His Christmas Ship song tells the true story of the schooner, Rouse Simmons, which brought Christmas trees to Chicago for years before sinking in November 1912. Despite the tragedy, the song ends on a note of renewal, recounting how the captain's widow assumed responsibility for bringing trees to Chicago by boat herself.

Join us on Sunday, December 15 starting at 3:00 p.m. for hors d'oeuvres, seasonal beverages and the concert. For reservations please call 773.376.1982 or go online at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/the-christmas-ship-concert-tickets-83247071231>.

The cost for members is $15 & non-members $20. Proceeds benefit the Chicago Maritime Museum.

Graphic Designer Lorraine Freeman Helmsman of CMM Brand

Years ago, when CMM operations board member Lorraine Freeman was tasked to design the museum's logo, she pondered the importance of bringing together three important elements: The City of Chicago, our waterways and our history. With the eye of a seasoned graphic designer, Lorraine considered a simple, yet compelling illustration that could incorporate all three elements. A schooner passing the Chicago Harbor Light on Lake Michigan.

"The elegant four-masted schooner defined Great Lakes commercial shipping during the 19th century," says Lorraine. "The ship speaks to our maritime history, while the easily-recognized Chicago Harbor Light, stands as an iconic symbol of the city and its maritime past."

Having co-owned and managed a small advertising agency for years, Lorraine has used her skills as a graphic designer to produce compelling print advertisement for classic brands such as Yamaha and Steinway. Her keen, artistic eye has enhanced CMM branding with everything from newsletter design to signage to advertising.

In addition to her professional expertise, Lorraine is a seasoned sailor who once owned a forty-foot sailboat custom-made in Hong Kong. A longtime member of the Columbia Yacht Club, she was also the first female member of Chicago Yacht Club.

A seasoned world-traveler, Lorraine often visits local maritime museums in the cities she has visited. From Muskegon to Myanmar, she's learned that every museum has a unique story to tell.

"As a visual person, for me it's about presentation. Whether it's a naval ship museum or an exploration of commercial fishing, patrons must see and understand that focus the moment they walk through the door," says Lorraine.

Her travels have inspired CMM's strong brand message of the city's geographical, economic and cultural growth through our waterways.

In a new role, Lorraine also directs special events for the museum. She is managing the committee for CMM's first benefit gala, "Voyage through History," which will be held on Thursday, April 30, 2020 at Columbia Yacht Club. (See more below.)

"We're hoping to establish CMM on Chicago's philanthropy radar," she says. "So many of our local foundations are supporting educational and historic outreach. In that mix, we want potential donors to recognize the value of supporting Chicago's rich maritime history, too"

If you love Chicago's maritime history, please help us tell our story. We need docents, data experts, event hosts and so much more. Please call us at 773-376-1982 if you would like to volunteer.

We Do It with Your Support

Dear Friends of the Maritime Museum,

I know that at this time of year, you are deluged with requests for support and funds from political parties, schools, universities, and all other sorts of organizations. I know because I am too! As we approach Thanksgiving and the holidays of December, I hope that you will find some time to support the Chicago Maritime Museum. We provide a unique view of Chicago's history and how the city's character grew from its waterways. I think of the following quote of Sonia Sotomayor sometimes when I look at our exhibits:

"It is important for all of us to appreciate where we come from and how that history has really shaped us in ways that we might not understand."

While the museum is a child of three, we can look with pride at the activities of the past year, including:

- The launch of a new web site
- An active panel on Bubbly Creek attended by 155
- A holiday party and concert
- Numerous, well attended Third Friday lectures
- 175 guests for the opening of the Eastland exhibit expansion and preview of the new film (now available in our store) Eastland - Chicago's Greatest Disaster
- 800 Enthusiastic visitors over the recent Architectural Association Open House weekend
- Substantial progress in cataloguing and digitalizing the museum's large collection

All of this was made possible by your past support. Future growth and expansion (including perhaps a new, larger museum- more on this next year), including the development of new events, exhibits and lectures depend upon your continued support.

With thanks for your continued support,
